Car manufacturers often have difficulty to keep up with the relentless progress of smartphones and apps. It means that as soon as Ã was launched a car, features like navigation and entertainment systems are already there The drivers end up using their phones instead. The way to get around this Ã9embed an interface, which means that the car's infotainment system exploits the power of the phone, mirroring the phone's apps on the car's infotainment screen and allowing you to control its functions using the car buttons and microphones â Best mobile phone owners to buy now for Apple users, the system is called CarPlay, while Google's interpretation of infotainment in car Ã®Android Auto. Ã a piece of technology that connects the phone to the unit main of your car, then you will see a simplified version of the phone screen on the infotainment display. You don't have the option use all the features of your phone to make it easier¹ and safer to operate while driving a car, but still allows quick access to some apps and features like browsing, music streaming, music messages and phone calls.Android Auto is not available on all new cars and some manufacturers have made it an expensive option or ask for a subscription fee - Ã is the same with Apple CarPlay. But the number of cars that have it always grows while customers insist on it. Some manufacturers, such as Mitsubishi, rely on technology and have effectively eliminated integrated navigation on some models knowing that customers prefer to use their connected smartphones instead. The greatest advantage of Android Auto Ã¹ is that apps (and navigation maps) are updated regularly to embrace new developments and data. New roads are also included in the mapping and apps like Waze Even warning traps and holes. The Sat-Nav systems also benefit from more accurate real-time traffic updates. How car manufacturers work on timing of very slowed products compared to the world of personal electronics, using the phone in A dna noitavitca eciov sa hcus serutaef ssecca ot slortnoc leehw gnireets
